

An aerial satellite photograph of a coastal area. The image shows a mix of terrain: a large, dark, rocky outcrop on the left; a winding road or path through the center; and a coastal town on the right with buildings and a beach. A location marker with a red flag icon is placed on the map, with the text 'BAÑOS DE LA HEDIONDA' next to it. The terrain is a mix of brownish and greenish hues, suggesting different vegetation and soil types. The coastline is visible at the bottom right.
